President's Council and Executive Committee Members are also expected to be NACAC voting members.

General Responsibilities

In carrying out their functions, members of the President's Council and Executive Committee are subject to two primary legal obligations: a duty of care and a duty of loyalty. The duties of care and loyalty are the common law terms for the standards that the law uses to gauge the legality of a governing member's acts or omissions. The duty of care calls upon each member of the President's Council and Executive Committee to participate in the decisions of the committee and to keep informed with respect to such decisions. The duty of loyalty requires all members to exercise their powers in the interest of PACAC, rather than in their own personal interest or the interest of another entity or person.

By assuming office, all members of the President's Council and Executive Committee acknowledge that with regard to any activity or opportunity, the best interest of PACAC must prevail over their individual interest. The President's Council and Executive Committee members shall not use their PACAC position for individual personal advantage. Before President's Council or Executive Committee members engage in a transaction which they should know may be of interest to PACAC, they must disclose the transaction to the Executive Committee in sufficient detail and give adequate time to enable the Executive Committee to act or decline with regard to such transaction. A corporate opportunity arises when a member knows that participating in a transaction would possibly fall within, or compete with, PACAC's present or future activities. The Member must affirmatively present the opportunity to the Executive Committee before participating in the transaction outside PACAC.

Specific Responsibilities

Each member of the PACAC President's Council and Executive Committee has these specific responsibilities:
